

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

5 cents a line first insertion; 2-1-2 cents a line each subsequent insertion
Cash in Advance. Minimum Charge, 20 cents

Wanted

WANTED—Messenger boy. Postal Telegraph Co. 170-171

WANTED—Fat cattle, sheep and calves. W. F. Richardson Co. 40-171

WANTED—Man used to working around saw mill. Holden & Martin 163-171

WANTED—At once, waitress at Newfane Inn, Newfane Vt. Tel. 8010. 157-171

WANTED—Millinery apprentices. Apply at once to Mrs. H. E. Bascom, 127 Main St., 2d floor. 168-171

WANTED—Man to make syrup. Address, Standard Bottle Works, White River Junction, Vt. 09-171

WANTED—25 women and 25 men; also good-sized boys; good wages. Snowflake Canning Co. 157-171

WANTED—Two messenger boys beginning when school opens, salary $20. Western Union Tel. Co. 159-171

WANTED—Good teamster on farm also woman for general housework. Address "B" Reformer Office. 161-171

WANTED—Home for boy attending 9th grade. Work for board. Address "M." Reformer Office. 169-171

WANTED—Cook and second girl. Best of wages paid for good help. Apply to Mrs. C. A. Boyden, 14 Walnut St. 168-171

WANTED—Young ladies to wait on table, also one for hand laundry. References requested. Apply to The Northfield, East Northfield, Mass. 167-171

WANTED—10,000 people with corns, callouses, chapped hands, eczema, or any skin disease, to buy a jar of Honey Bee Ointment. Guaranteed to please or money refunded. Brattleboro Drug Co. 168-171

WANTED—Five more girls to work in penholder factory. Wages $8.00 to $11.00 per week. Board and room $3.75. Experience unnecessary. Phone 51. C. E. Bradley Corporation, Putney, Vt. 170-171

WANTED—Salesman; traveling; salary and expenses or commission. Must be active, ambitious, willing to learn; splendid opportunity; former experience not essential. Landmark Cigar Co., Denver, Pa. 169-171

For Sale

FOR SALE—Sand, gravel and loam. H. G. Clark. 30-171

FOR SALE—All kinds of dry wood. George M. Stark, Cedar Street 234-171

FOR SALE—Furniture and Ranges, new and second-hand at J. B. Dunton's. 151-171

FOR SALE—Hard and soft wood slabs; prompt delivery. Holden & Martin 119-171

FOR SALE—One cook stove, 1 heating stove. Will sell cheap. J. G. Brownell, 15 Chestnut St. 170-171

FOR SALE—Auto, 5-passenger, in good condition, new tires, low price, or will trade for lumber or other useful articles. Ulery. 167-171

FARM FOR SALE—120 acres, 1 mile to postoffice and school. For further particulars write John McKay, West Brattleboro. 162-171

FOR SALE—A survey in good condition, also light extension buggy pole. Inquire 68 Washington St. or Fred Thomas at Dunham's. 153-171

FOR SALE—Bay horse, 8 years old, sound and a good driver; also 1 new carriage, express wagon and harness. G. N. Bond, 3 Locust St. Tel. 231-X. 66-171

FOR SALE—Timber lot, 100 acres of nice spruce, pine and hemlock, some very nice oak, white ash and basswood; estimated 400 to 600 thousand feet. Three miles from Saxtons River, Vt. Nial Bemis, Athens, Vt. Telephone Saxtons River 31-32. 159-170

FOR SALE—One portable hand cider mill and press combined, most new; two three-seated wagons, good for carrying children to school, one with top; lot of very nice second-hand furniture and mahogany antique furniture; one new two-horse low down spring wagon, will carry two tons and is extra good; one 36-horsepower auto made into a truck; one furniture truck in first class shape, will carry three tons, panel body and top; and all kinds of wagons, woven wire fencing, windows and doors and frames and a lot of hard pine timber. Charles Miner. 169-171

WANTED

Young man with some experience in the printing business.

THE SPENCER PRESS

WANTED

A young man with some experience, for position of clerk in a dry goods store; also a capable young man to learn the dry goods business. Address, "K," Reformer.

"PERICULUM IN MORA"

(There is danger in delay.) Everybody knows it and yet intelligent men persist in putting off the life insurance agent. Insure and be sure. National Life Ins. Co. of Vt. (Mutual) 67th year.—ALBERT C. LAIRD, Special Agent, 8 Crosby Block.

The Monadnock Mills

CLAREMONT, N. H.

want help for its weaving, spinning and carding departments. Good pay and steady work. Experience unnecessary. Mill has just advanced wages 10 per cent. Largest town in New Hampshire. Write for further information, or come direct to Mill Office.

TRY THE CLASSIFIED COLUMNS IN THE DAILY REFORMER

CENTRAL VERMONT
IN GOOD CONDITION

Officials Report After Making an Inspection of Entire System

THE GROSS RECEIPTS
OVER FOUR MILLION

Harmonious Operation, Co-operation and Improved Methods Show Results in a Large Reduction in the Expense Account.

MONTREAL, Sept. 18.—E. J. Chamberlin, president of the Grand Trunk, and chairman of the Central Vermont, E. J. Dalrymple, vice-president of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific, Edward C. Smith, president of the Central Vermont, and J. W. Hanley, general passenger agent of the Central Vermont, have been at work on a tour of inspection of the Central Vermont system, which the Grand Trunk controls, and which is an auxiliary of the system now.

The Central Vermont system comprises some 536 miles, 97 locomotives, 1,113 passenger cars, 3,249 box and other freight cars. Its gross receipts for the last fiscal year were $4,210,411. The introduction of recent economies in the management of the property, coupled with an improved method of accounting, and the introduction of more harmonious method of operation, together with the hearty co-operation of every department of the company's service, have resulted, not only in maintaining the system in better condition than before, but also in reducing the operating expenses to 75.38 per cent during the past fiscal year, as compared with 87.90 per cent previously.

The adoption of super-heaters and the increase of train loads to the maximum capacity of the locomotives, have brought about the reduction of expenses from 48.5 per cent of the total operating revenue to 44.2 per cent, while the consumption of coal was 12.60 per cent of the total operating revenue, as compared with 15.75 per cent last year, the lowest ratio of cost of coal to operating revenue since 1900.

The Central Vermont system is in excellent physical condition, and is becoming more and more valuable as an adjunct to the Grand Trunk property. The road is filling an important function, and its business is increasing. The increase will become more marked when things are more settled than they are at present.

WELL-KNOWN MEN

SUBSCRIBE $14,000

Theodore N. Vail Starts Movement for Farm and Business Union with Gift of $10,000.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 18.—Decadent agriculture in the six north-eastern states may be struck into life and strength within the next few years by a simple "I move you, Mr. Chairman," spoken Saturday morning in the mahogany room of the Auditorium. That motion, which concluded a two-day "What-should-be-done-for-New-England" conference of about 200 industrial, collegiate and agricultural leaders paved the way for the creation of a New England farm and business union. It remains for this union to intensely study the farming handicaps which have been discussed at the conference and to put into effect the remedies which were proposed.

Wilson H. Lee of New Haven, Conn., who presided Saturday, was authorized to appoint a committee of 20 to devise ways of financing the work the farm and business union will do, and another committee of 15 to perfect the union's organization. The primary objects of the motion, which concluded a two-day union will be to see that farmers can obtain credit on the same basis as business men, so they may build up their farms; that they be given co-operative facilities for harvesting their crops and the best possible facilities for getting their milk, their garden produce and their field crops to the consumers. The definite formation of the union, which will probably be headed by the best-known New England men, will develop within the next few weeks. The two-day conference with its developments was held at the instance of the Eastern States exposition, whose grounds in West Springfield will open their career next month when the National dairy show is held there.

Besides laying a foundation for the farm and business union there was one other outstanding feature of the conference's closing session Saturday. Four well-known men showed their enthusiasm for the project in hand by backing it with $14,000 of cold cash. The four and their subscriptions were: Theodore N. Vail, president of the American Bell Telephone company, of Lyndonville, Vt., $10,000; E. Bertram Pike of Pike, N. H., $2,000; Wilson H. Lee of Orange, Conn., $1,000; and Howard Elliott of New Haven, Conn., president of the New Haven railroad, $1,000. All four men were attending the conference. Stock in the Eastern States exposition to the amounts named will be issued to them.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states, and the call and the deliberations of the delegates made it clear that there was a feeling that New England needed such a clearing house of ideas and inspirations as the Eastern States exposition offered. It was pointed out that there has already been done by the exposition such a constructive work that the proposed union should be organized and conducted under its auspices.

The conference Friday and Saturday was called together by a committee of six, representing each of the New England states,